Guizer Jarl - Graham Hughson

Our Chief Guizer this year is Graham Hughson from Mid Yell, he has chosen to represent Hallkjell Jonsson. Graham is a long-time supporter of the Cullivoe Up Helly Aa, and has been a mainstay of the Mid Yell squad for many years. He is making his third appearance in the Jarl Squad this year, having previously been called up by Johnnie Clark in 2002 and Campbell Dickie in 2011. Graham works for BP as a maintenance technician at Sullom Voe. He is a keen sailor and also enjoys football, being an avid supporter of Celtic.

Graham is grateful for the support of his family this Up Helly Aa season. His wife Olga, a Social Care Worker, has been instrumental in the outfit design and preparation, and has endured many a late night in the build up to the main event. Their children are also involved in the festival - Nicole (12) is a Viking princess, while Reece (10) is Junior Jarl. No doubt the whole family will enjoy their weekend, and have lasting memories of Graham's year in charge.

We would like to wish Graham, Olga, Nicole and Reece all the very best!

Campbell Dickie: This is Campbell's fourth appearance in the Jarl Squad, having taken on the top job last year. His experience has been vital in preparing Graham for all that the role of Guizer Jarl involves.

Michael Nisbet: Having been involved in the festival his whole life, Michael makes his first appearance in the squad as Jarl-elect. He is responsible for our website: www.cullivoeuphellyaa.com.

Ian Anderson: Somewhat surprisingly given his Orkney roots, this marks Ian's seventh appearance in the Jarl Squad.

Ross Keith: A Yell man now residing in Ollaberry, Ross operates his own plumbing business. The room is rarely quiet when Ross is around...

Trevor Henderson: A veteran squad member, Trevor was Jarl in 1995. He is most renowned for playing the notorious rogue "Hansie".

George Nisbet: George is a neighbour and good friend of Graham. He is making his Jarl Squad debut in this year's festival.

Lee Jamieson: Committee-member Lee is an avid supporter of Up Helly Aa and this year makes his second appearance in the Jarl Squad..

Brian Nicolson: ...What can we say?? Another seven-time Jarl Squad member, Brian O'Houll is the definitive Up Helly Aa veteran.

Erland Smith: Making his first appearance in the Jarl Squad, a long-time member of the 'Mid Yell' squad. Erland will no doubt enjoy the occasion.

Jason Jamieson: Jason is another Jarl Squad debutant, his father was Jarl in 1976. Jason has appeared in squads ever since leaving school.

Nicole & Reece Hughson: Viking princess Nicole is 12 years old; Junior Jarl Reece is 10. We hope they will enjoy themselves and the experience will see them coming back in future years.

Musicians: The Jarl squad will be accompanied this year by the musical stylings of Andy "Shakin" Stephen, Ryan Couper and Stuart Grains.

The Saga of Hallkjell Jonsson

Guizer Jarl Graham Hughson is assuming the role of Hallkjell Jonsson. This is his story:

“Sverre Sigurdsson was King of Norway from 1177 to 1202. He became sole King after defeating Magnus Erlingsson at the battle of Fimreite with his squad of Vikings, the Birkebeiners.

Sigurd Magnusson, King Magnus Erlingsson’s son attempted to overthrow King Sverre during the Norwegian civil war period. Sigurd was supported by a hardy band of warriors named the Øyskjeggs, or Isle Beards, so named as most of the men were gathered from Orkney and Shetland. Harald Maddadsson, the Earl of Orkney and Shetland, supported Sigurd in the uprising.

Sigurd Magnusson was the chief of the Øyskjeggs in name but the real leader was the lendmann (knight) Hallkjell Jonsson, the brother-in-law of King Magnus. After gathering his troops he sailed from Orkney to Bergen to try to displace King Sverre from the throne.

The Øyskjeggs and the Birkebeiners met at the Battle of Florvåg where the great battle experience of the Birkebeiners proved too much for the Øyskjeggs. Hallkjell fell along with most of his men.

King Sverre demanded that the body of Sigurd was displayed before him in Bergen to be sure of his death. Harald Maddadsson sailed to Norway in order to make peace with King Sverre but as punishment for his part in the rebellion the King ended the Earldom of Orkney and Shetland and placed the islands under his own direct rule.”

Squad List from 1959

1 - JARL SQUAD (5)

Bright colourful suits. Three with winged helmets and one with horned helmet.

2 - SCHOOLCHILDREN (5)

This squad of young lads - four dressed as school boys, in shorts and schoolbags and one as the teacher in mortar-board - kept the audience entertained with amusing questions and equally amusing answers.

3 - THE SMALL WORLD (4)

As this suggests, this was a skit on the recent expedition, Rosemary, Bushy, Colin and Tim, dressed in night apparel, arrived with their boat-balloon (Russian) and other equipment for the voyage, ending up in Cullivoe instead of America.

4 - THE LAWBREAKERS (7)

Six poachers at da roots caught in the act by the "Bobby".

5 - THE MERRY DANCERS (10)

A squad of girls attractively dressed in black skirts, white blouses, tartan sashes and tartan caps, danced into the hall in pairs and performed the "Petronella".

6 - FURTHER EDUCATION (6)

Class of four "older" boys, dressed in shorts, were put through their paces by their teachers in front of an inspector.

7 - AT DA CRAIGS (6)

A group of fishermen indulging in a bit of local gossip while working their wands.

8 - THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY (3)

This was the grandfather of all lobsters! (Size 18 feet by four feet by three feet). A very remarkable piece of work, correct in every detail, crawled round the hall with claws snapping fiercely.

9 - "OOR WILLIE" (5)

A favourite character in quadruplicate, sitting on their buckets, and up to their usual pranks, had to be removed from the hall by P. C. Murdoch.

10 - HOME RULE (3)

A deaf "youngster" of some 95 years, heckling a soap box orator, was soon removed by his wife when she saw him listening to the speaker's views on petticoat government.
